SONG OF HOW-THE-WIDOW.
Should you ask me how do Widows
Weave their spell of fiscination—
Gain the hearts of second husbands
With the help of sidelong glances.
Cape of starched and crimped cambric.
And the truste of sweet meanings
O'er the virtues of the 'lost one'—
Of the hashand whose good fortune
Took him for beyond their tongue-reach,
Took him to that heaven of silence
Where their tongues no more could reach him I
I should answer—I should tell you—
Unto me it was mysterious;
Twas a theme of endless wonder,
Most amazing—moet astounding—
Far beyond the grasp of logic,
O'r the flight of speculation,
How a man poseessing senses
(Not a swine possessed of devils),
How a man enjoying feedom,
E'er could sacrince his latchkey,
And the bliss thereto pertaining
To the keeping of a Widow— How a man engine
E'er could sacrince his latchkey,
And the bliss thereto pertaining
To the keeping of a Widow—
To a buried man's remainder.
"'Twas mysterious now no longer;
For I his mysterious now no longer;
For I his do no to the Bookstore
And the HEDOTT PAPERS bought I—Bought the Widow B's confessions,
Resal the wendrous Widow's writings.
Read her witty, wise, he witching
Views of life, satiric touches,
Comic scenes and truthful pictures—
And I laughed until my sides ached—

HORACE GREELEY;
EDITOR OF THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.
By James Parton. With Portraits. 12mo, pp. 442. Price $1.25.
It is agreed by friends and foes of Mr. Greeley that no more ably, entertainingly and instructively written biography has ever made its appearance in America. Every one who has any desire for a familiar acquaintance with the famous New-York Editor, should read Mr. Parton's book, and he will know Mr. Greeley as well as though be had been "brought up in the same town."

"A volume for earnest men and boys to read and study."

"As an incentive to youth in poverty to be houses, faithful and potestering, apart from its personal interest, it should go into the hands of the young of America generally."

"As interesting as any novel, yet all true."

"As interesting as any novel, yet all true."

LURGESS & Co., No. 60 John at. Price 377 cents.

From the Rev. Mr. Frilinghuysen.

"I have examined this work with some care, and take pleasure in recommending it to those who are engaged in elementary instruction. The arrangement strengthens the memory and improves the understanding."

From the Rev. Dr. Dewey.

"The plan of the Grammar certainly seems to me to be good, the definitions simple and clear, and that classification of words by the sounds of letters would help much to save our American speech from the worst fault—indistinctness."

From W. W. waiker, late Superinal's of Common Schools, N.Y.

"I have examined the work entitled "First Lessons in Grammar and Composition," and take pleasure in stating it as my opinion that it is a work highly eriginal in Design, and equally true to the Philosophy of the Language."

WE HAVE something new in relation to the QUIMBY AND MCBRIDE CASE from the NATIONAL POLICE GAZETTE of this week, now ready. Also cents PRIVATE DETAILS from GREER, the CONFIDENCE MAN. THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD

IS NOW PREFARED TO SELL OVER TWO MILLIONS OF ACRES OF SELECTED

PRAIRIE, FARM AND WOOD LANDS
IN TRACTS OF 40 ACRES AND UPWARD, to suit purchasers, on long credits and at low rates of interest.
They were granted by the Government to encourage the building of this Railroad, which rons from the extreme north to the extreme south of the State of Illinois. It peases fromfend to end, through the richest and most fortile Pfuiries of the States, dotted here and there with magnificent Oak Groves. The recent opening of nearly 600 miles of this road throws open the lands for cultivation. They are scattered from one to fifteen miles on each side of it, through its entire length.
The soil is a dark; rich mold, from one to five foot in depth, is gently rolling, and peculiarly fitted for grazing cattle and sheep, and the cultivation of wheat, Indian corn, ke.
The fait crop of Indian corn planted on the newly broken prairie, usually pays the cost of plowing and sometimes fineing.
Wheat sown on new turned soil as are to yield very large profits.
One man with a plow and two yoke of ozen, will break one-said a-half to two acres per day. Contracts can be made for breaking, ready for corn or wheat, at $2 to $2.50 per acre. By indictous management farms may be broken and finoed the first, and under a high state of cultivation the second year.

The larger yield on the cheap lands of Illinois, over highpriced lands in the Eastern and Middle States, is known to be much more than sufficient to pay the difference of transportation to the Eastern market. The rapid increase and growth of four lahing towns and villages along the live of this road afford a growing home demand for farm produce.

Ceal and wood are delivered cloug the road at different points,
at from $1.50 to $4 the cord or tun.

Parties baving in view lows, Kansas, Nebrasks or Minesota

Trinity Professor of Christian Ethics, and Professor of Logic, of Intellectual Philosophy, and of History in Hobart Free College, at Geneva, Western New-York.

The following work has grown out of my necessities and my experience, as a teacher. When, several years ago, I accepted a Professorship, the duties of which required me to teach Logic, I could nowhere find a text-book that seemed to me to satisfy the demands of the science.

"Nor was this feeling peculiar to myself, Mr. Thompson, in his excellent work on the "Necessary Laws of Thought, begins his Freface with asying: "The system of pure Logic, or analysis, that has been universally accepted for canturies part, is very defective as an instrument for the analysis of natural reasoning. Arguments that commend themselves to any untaught mind as valid and practically important, have no place in a system that professedly includes all reasoning whatever, and an attempt to reduce to its technical forms the first few pages of any scientific work, has generally ended in failure and disgust."

It would not be difficult to produce any amount of testimony to the prevalence of a similar feeling with regard to the present state of literature in the department of science and instruction."
